COVID-19 is a zoonotic disease that may be transmitted from people to animals such as primates (monkeys and apes) and cats.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), COVID-19 may be spread to animals through respiratory droplets from coughing, sneezing, or talking. People may be able to spread the virus to animals while asymptomatic or before they feel sick.

Please help keep our animals healthy by respecting the barriers and boundaries around our primate and big cat areas.

Please do not share food or any other items with them, and wear a face covering at all times
